Delinquency Resolution - Payment Plan Agreement, Unit 4B Brooke Phillips, Regional Supervisor Teresa Wood, Owner Relations

SECTION 1 - EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Following a two-month rent delinquency for the tenant in Unit 4B, Star Property Management pursued a structured payment plan resolution in lieu of immediate eviction proceedings. I conducted this assessment today, July 14, 2026, to document the completion of that process: the formal payment plan agreement letter has been saved to the shared document drive, the Airtable delinquency record has been updated to reflect an active repayment arrangement, and Tanya Mitchell's written acceptance of the agreed terms has been noted in the record. The overall finding is that the delinquency case is now properly documented, the tenant has formally committed to a repayment schedule, and the file is in good standing for ongoing monitoring pending successful completion of the installment payments.

SECTION 2 - DETAILED FINDINGS

2.1 TENANT DELINQUENCY BACKGROUND

Condition Observed: Unit 4B is occupied by Tanya Mitchell, who fell behind on rent by two full months, resulting in an outstanding balance that triggered internal escalation procedures. The delinquency was first flagged by me and communicated to Brooke Phillips for guidance on next steps. Brooke authorized proceeding with a written payment plan arrangement rather than moving directly to an eviction filing, which I considered appropriate given the tenant's proactive outreach and stated willingness to resolve the balance.

Issues / Follow-Up: The delinquency originated across two consecutive billing cycles. No eviction action has been filed at this time; continued monitoring is required to confirm installment compliance. If any scheduled payment is missed, escalation to formal collections is contractually triggered under the terms of the agreement now on file.

2.2 PAYMENT PLAN AGREEMENT LETTER - DOCUMENT FILING

Condition Observed: I prepared and saved the formal payment plan agreement letter to the shared document drive under the Unit 4B tenant file. The letter identifies Tanya Mitchell by name, specifies the unit address, itemizes each installment amount with its corresponding due date, states the total outstanding balance to be repaid in full over the course of the arrangement, and includes a clearly written clause notifying the tenant that failure to satisfy any single scheduled payment may result in escalation to formal collections proceedings. The document is complete and reflects the terms discussed and accepted by the tenant.

Issues / Follow-Up: The letter is saved and accessible to authorized staff. I confirmed the filename and storage path are consistent with the department's document naming conventions so the file can be retrieved quickly if the matter escalates. No gaps or missing fields were identified in the agreement letter.

2.3 TENANT WRITTEN ACCEPTANCE

Condition Observed: Tanya Mitchell responded in writing via email to the payment arrangement proposal I sent on behalf of Star Property Management. Her reply confirmed agreement to the installment schedule, the total balance, and the stated consequences of non-payment. This written acceptance is on record in the email thread and has been referenced in the Airtable delinquency record notes.

Issues / Follow-Up: No issues observed. The tenant's acceptance is unambiguous and dated, providing a clear record of mutual agreement. A copy of her acceptance email should be retained alongside the signed agreement letter in the Unit 4B document folder for consolidated case documentation.

2.4 AIRTABLE DELINQUENCY RECORD - STATUS UPDATE

Condition Observed: I updated the Airtable delinquency tracking record for Unit 4B from its prior status to "Payment Plan - Active" to accurately reflect the current stage of this case. The record notes field now contains a concise summary of the agreed installment amounts, the due dates for each payment, and a notation confirming that the tenant provided written acceptance of the terms.

Issues / Follow-Up: The record status change ensures that the leasing team and Brooke Phillips can monitor the case at a glance without needing to open the underlying correspondence. The notes are sufficient for continuity if case ownership transfers. The record should be revisited and manually confirmed as each installment clears to maintain an accurate, current status throughout the repayment period.

2.5 INTERNAL COMMUNICATION AND APPROVAL CHAIN

Condition Observed: The approval trail for this payment plan arrangement is intact. I notified Brooke Phillips of the delinquency situation via Slack, and her direction to proceed with a written plan is documented in that channel. My subsequent outreach to the tenant, the tenant's response, and the finalized agreement are all preserved in the email record. Teresa Wood, representing owner relations, has been copied on this report for awareness.

Issues / Follow-Up: The communication chain from initial flag through final agreement is complete and traceable across Slack and email. No gaps in the approval or documentation flow were identified during this assessment. Owner-level notification should be confirmed received by Teresa Wood to close the loop on stakeholder awareness.

2.6 COMPLIANCE RISK AND COLLECTIONS CLAUSE REVIEW

Condition Observed: The payment plan agreement contains a default clause that is explicit and unambiguous: any missed installment automatically triggers consideration for escalation to formal collections. I reviewed this clause in the saved letter and confirmed it is positioned prominently within the document and written in plain language that is accessible to the tenant. This clause is consistent with Star Property Management's standard practice for delinquency resolution agreements.

Issues / Follow-Up: Should the tenant miss an installment, the property management team must act promptly to invoke this clause rather than allowing additional time to accumulate without a formal response. No current compliance failure exists; this is a forward-looking risk item that requires active monitoring at each payment due date.

SECTION 3 - RECOMMENDATIONS AND NEXT STEPS

1. RETAIN ACCEPTANCE EMAIL WITH AGREEMENT LETTER

File Tanya Mitchell's written acceptance email directly alongside the formal payment plan agreement letter in the Unit 4B folder on the shared document drive so that all case materials are consolidated in a single location and retrievable without searching across platforms.

2. INSTALLMENT MONITORING CHECKPOINTS

At each payment due date specified in the agreement, a designated team member should confirm whether the installment was received and update the Airtable record accordingly. This prevents the case from sitting at "Payment Plan - Active" indefinitely without a current status reflecting actual payment activity.

3. OWNER NOTIFICATION CONFIRMATION

Confirm that Teresa Wood has received and acknowledged this report and the associated case summary. Given the outstanding balance involved, owner-level visibility should be documented rather than assumed.

4. ESCALATION PROTOCOL READINESS

If any installment is not received within the grace period stated in the agreement, the case should be escalated promptly to Brooke Phillips for a determination on whether to proceed with formal collections or an eviction filing. The team should not wait for a second missed payment before initiating that conversation.

5. LEASE RENEWAL CONSIDERATION NOTE

Flag the Unit 4B file for review at the next lease renewal cycle. The delinquency history and the outcome of this payment plan should be factored into any renewal decision in coordination with Brooke Phillips and Teresa Wood.
